LIST OF STATUES, MONUMENTS AND BUSTS OF HISTORICAL INTEREST IN CALCUTTA.

Serial ber.	Where situated.	Description of monument.	Inscription on monument.	REMARKS.
1	2	3	4	5
1	Government House.	Full-sized marble figure on a white marble pedestal.	Marquis Wellesley, Governor-General of India, from 1798 to 1805. Erected by the British inhabitants of Bengal in testimony of their high sense of the wisdom, energy and rectitude of his administration.
2	Ditto ...	Marble busts (12)	These busts are said to be those of twelve Cæsars of Rome seized from a French Man-of-War in the Indian Ocean in the beginning of the nineteenth century.
3	Town Hall ...	Full-sized marble statue on a marble pedestal.	To the Right Hon'ble Warren Hastings, MDCCCXXX.	See also No. 16.
4	Ditto ...	Full-sized statue on marble pedestal over marble platform with steps.	In honour of the Most Noble Marquis Cornwallis, K.G., Governor-General of India, from September MDCCCLXXXVI to October MDCCXCIII, who, by an administration uniformly conducted on the principles of wisdom, equity and sound policy, improved the internal resources of the country, promoted the happiness of its inhabitants, conciliated the friendship of the native powers, confirmed the attachment of the allies of the Company, and established the reputation of the British name in Hindustan for good faith and moderation by fixing in perpetuity the public demand for the landed revenue. He gave to the proprietors of the soil for the first time a permanent interest in it, and by the formation of a code of regulations for every department of the Government, he bestowed on the natives of India the benefit of a constitution and a security before unknown in the enjoyment of their rights and property. Forced into a war by the unprovoked aggression of Tippoo Sultan, his eminent military talents in the conduct of it were no less conspicuous than his moderation in victory. As a lasting memorial of these important services, and as a testimony of their respect and esteem for a Governor-General under whose administration public spirit was encouraged and merit liberally rewarded, this statue was erected by the British inhabitants of Bengal, A.D. MDCCCIII.

77	Hare School ...	A white marble full-sized figure standing on a marble pedestal.	In honour of David Hare, who, by steady industry having acquired an ample competence, cheerfully relinquished the prospect of returning to enjoy it in his native land, in order to promote the welfare of that of his adoption to the close of his irreproachable and useful life. He made the improvement, intellectual and moral, as well as the condition in sickness no less than in health, of the native youths of Bengal the object of his constant care and unwearying solicitude, and they, in token of gratitude and veneration for the memory of their constant, generous and most disinterested benefactor, have erected this statue.
78	Sanskrit College	A white full-sized seated figure on a pedestal of marble.	To the sacred memory of— Pundit Iswar Chandra Vidiyasagara, C.I.E., who, from a pupil, became the Principal of the Sanskrit College. This statue has been erected, with subscriptions raised by the public, as a token of their profound respect for his great virtues, and a tribute to his eminent services to the country, as scholar, author, educationist, reformer and philanthropist.

LIST OF STATUES, MONUMENTS AND BUSTS OF HISTORICAL INTEREST IN CALCUTTA.

Serial num-ber.	Where situated.	Description of monument.	Inscription on monument.
1	Government House.	Full-sized marble figure on a white marble pedestal.	Marquis Wellesley, Governor-General of India, from 1798 to 1805. Erected by the British inhabitants of Bengal in testimony of their high sense of the wisdom, energy and rectitude of his administration.
2	Ditto ...	Marble busts (12)*
3	Town Hall ...	Full-sized marble statue on a marble pedestal.	To the Right Hon'ble Warren Hastings, MDCCOXXX.
4	Ditto ...	Full-sized statue on marble pedestal over marble platform with steps.	In honour of the Most Noble Marquis Cornwallis, K.G., Governor-General of India, from September MDCCCLXXXVI to October MDCCXCIII, who, by an administration uniformly conducted on the principles of wisdom, equity and sound policy, improved the internal resources of the country, promoted the happiness of its inhabitants, conciliated the friendship of the native powers, confirmed the attachment of the allies of the Company, and established the reputation of the British name in Hindustan for good faith and moderation by fixing in perpetuity the public demand for the landed revenue. He gave to the proprietors of the soil for the first time a permanent interest in it, and by the formation of a code of regulations for every department of the Government, he bestowed on the natives of India the benefit of a constitution and a security before unknown in the enjoyment of their rights and property. Forced into a war by the unprovoked aggression of Tippoo Sultan, his eminent military talents in the conduct of it were no less conspicuous than his moderation in victory. As a lasting memorial of these important services, and as a testimony of their respect and esteem for a Governor-General under whose administration public spirit was encouraged and merit liberally rewarded, this statue was erected by the British inhabitants of Bengal, A.D. MDCCCIII.
5	Ditto ...	Full-sized marble statue in sitting posture on a marble block.	(North face.) Mahárájá Ramá Náth Tagore Bahadur, c.s.i. Born October 26, 1801. Died June 10, 1877. (West face.) Mahárájá Ramá Náth Tagore Bahadur, c.s.i. Born October 26, 1801. Died June 10, 1877. Erected by his fellow citizens as a mark of their esteem for his private virtues and of their gratitude for his public services. (East face.) মহারাজ রমানাথ ঠাকুর, বাহাদুর, সি, এস্, আই, মহোদয়ের গুণগরিমা ও সাধারণ হিতসাধনের সমাদর ও কৃতজ্ঞতার চিহ্নস্বরূপ এই প্রতিকৃতি এতদ্বগরবাসিগণ কর্তৃক প্রতিষ্ঠিত হইয়াছে। জন্মদিন—ইং ২৬শে অক্টোবর, ১৮০১ সাল। মৃত্যুদিন—ইং ১০ই জুন, ১৮৭৭ সাল।

* These busts are said to be those of twelve Caesars of Rome seized from a French Man-of-War in the Indian Ocean in the beginning of the nineteenth century.

6	Town Hall— contd.	Marble bust on marble pilaster.	John Palmer, Esq., of Calcutta, Merchant, second son of the late Lieutenant-General William Palmer. Born 8th of October 1767; died 22nd January 1836. To superior talent he united a mind well cultivated and richly stored, with a heart susceptible of every generous and benevolent impulse, ready at all times to sympathize in the sorrows and sufferings of his fellow-creatures. To the poor and the afflicted his counsel, when required, was prompt, and his hand ever open in the hour of their need. The vicissitudes and trials of life, which it was his lot to experience in their severest forms, he bore with equanimity and fortitude, and he lived in the respect and affection of a numerous circle of friends, European and Native, who, rightly appreciating his worth and deeply sorrowing for his loss, have caused this monument to be erected to his memory. Requiescat in pace.
7	Ditto ...	Marble bust, on marble column, of Babu Ram Gopal Ghosh.	Nil.

84	East bank of Hooghly N.-W. end of Eden Gardens, Calcutta.	Masonry Ghat ...	Sepoy Bullee. The Right Hon'ble Lord William Cavendish Bentinck G. C. B. and G. C. H., Governor-General, &c., &c., with a view to encourage the direction of private munificence to works of public utility has been pleased to determine that this Ghat constructed in the year 1830 at the expense of Babu Raj Chunder Das shall hereafter be called Babu Raj Chunder Dass' Ghat.
85	Hare School ...	A white marble full-sized figure standing on a marble pedestal.	In honour of David Hare, who, by steady industry having acquired an ample competence, cheerfully relinquished the prospect of returning to enjoy it in his native land, in order to promote the welfare of that of his adoption to the close of his irreproachable and useful life. He made the improvement, intellectual and moral, as well as the condition in sickness no less than in health, of the native youths of Bengal the object of his constant care and unwearied solicitude, and they, in token of gratitude and veneration for the memory of their constant, generous and most disinterested benefactor, have erected this statue.
86	Hare School ...	Marble tablet inserted in the wall.	This tablet erected by the teachers and students of this school is sacred to the memory of Devid Hare who subduing the natural desires to return to the land of his birth, devoted his fortune, his energies and his life to the best interest of India, his adopted country where he will ever be affectionately remembered as the father of Native education; born in England 1775, died in Calcutta, June 1st, 1842. Ah, warm philanthropist! Ah, faithful friend! Thy life devoted to one generous end To bless the Hindoo mind with British lore, And truth's and nature's faded light restore, If for a day that lofty Aim was crost You grieved like Titus that a day was lost Alas! it is now a few brief hours That fate withholds a heavier grief o'er Powers A native whom you loved as if your own A life that gave the life of life is gone Anno Domini 1847.

134	South wall of nave, St. John's Church.	White marble tablet with ornamental figures on the upper part to the memory of Michael Cheese, Esq.	Sacred to the memory of the late Michael Cheese, Esq., Surgeon on the Hon'ble East India Company's Bengal Establishment and Garrison Surgeon of Fort William. Dedicated by public contribution in token of the high and well-merited esteem of this community for the enlarged and practical philanthropy of that gentleman's character. Perhaps never had the remains of a Christian in India been followed to their tomb with more heartfelt and expressed regret than were manifested by the numerous assemblage of all classes of the society of this place who attended his funeral on the 15th of January 1816. He has long exercised his professional talent with an ability which did honour to him as a practitioner of medicine and with a munificence worthy of the religion he professed. If a change of air or expensive nutriment were desirable, but could not be afforded from the resources of a patient, Mr. Cheese supplied the means and when all human endeavours proved unavailing, his purse was ever open to clothe and support the destitute mourners. In the society of his equals such was also the cheerful benignity of his manners that he was ever a welcome guest alike to the children and to the heads of the family.
135	East wall of nave, St. John's Church.	White marble tablet with three white marble figures and black border to the memory of Alexander Colvin. 145	Ditto.	White marble tablet with two marble figures above and ornamental work below to the memory of Lieutenant Peter Lawtie.	This monument is erected by Sir David Ochterloney and the Officers of the Army under his command to the memory of Lieutenant Peter Lawtie of the Corps of Engineers in the Army of Bengal who at the age of 23 at the close of the first campaign of the Nepal War, to the successful termination of which his exertions had eminently contributed, fell a victim to his devotion in the service of his country, beloved, respected and admired. Obit Anno MDCCLXXV.
146	Ditto.	White marble tablet with black border to the memory of Henry Lloyd Loring, D.D.	Henry Lloyd Loring, D. D., First Arohdeacon of Calcutta, died 4th September 1822, aged 38 years. "An humble, pure and heavenly-minded heart," Beloved in life and lamented in death, this amiable Christian has left an impression on the hearts of those who knew him, which no time can efface. It is written in the deepest lines on them who in deference to the humility of his character, yet anxious to record his virtues, have placed this simple tablet.
147	North wall of nave, St. John's Church.	White marble tablet with white marble figures and ornamentation and black marble border all round to the memory of Lieutenant-Colonel John Ludlow, C.B.	This cenotaph was erected by the Officers of the Neemuch Field Force in honour of their Commander Lieutenant-Colonel John Ludlow, C.B. This distinguished officer entered the Bengal Army on the 16th of February 1795 and his career was marked by an ardent devotion to the duties of a soldier, a generous enthusiasm and unabating zeal which shed a lustre on the profession to which he belonged by his heroic intrepidity in the arduous contest between the British troops and those of the Raja of Nepal in the years 1814 and 1815. He obtained the unqualified approbation of the Supreme Government of India and the Honours of the Bath from his Sovereign. His life fell a sacrifice to the energy of his spirit, which led him into the field at the head of his Division, whilst suffering under a painful and dangerous illness, under which he sunk in camp at Barode on the 22nd of September 1821 in the 44th year of his age. Just and inflexibly firm, yet temperate and mild in the exercise of his authority, he ensured the respect whilst he conciliated the attachment of the troops under his command. The virtues that adorned his private life endeared him to his family and friends by whom he was sincerely esteemed and beloved and who whilst they unfeignedly mourn his loss, warmly cherish his remembrance.
